FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GRAVELLY ART HOLIDAY CARDS
NOW AVAILABLE AT SELECT RETAIL LOCATIONS

Previously only offered through the company's website, Gravelly Art announces availability of new holiday cards in 12 retail locations

Portland, Ore. — November 19th, 2010 — Just in time for 2010 holiday shopping, Portland-based Gravelly Art is pleased to announce the availability of its cards at numerous Oregon locations as well as in Maine and Ohio. The cards, created by local artist Jud Guitteau, were previously available for sale only through the company's website.

In the Portland area, the cards are now available in five Made in Oregon stores (and online), Oblation Papers and Press, Present Perfect, Annie Bloom Books, Holiday Card Shoppe and The Arrangement. They're also available at Rockport, Maine's The Paper Mermaid and at Peabody Papers in Columbus, Ohio.

"I'm always on the lookout for a new twist on the holiday theme...freshly stylized characters, bright pinks thrown into the mix, and written sentiments that surprise," said Jennifer Rich, the owner and buyer for Oblation Papers and Press. "Gravelly Art's cards are a fun addition to our holiday card lineup."

The holiday series includes four lines: A Retro Xmas is a mid-century style series inspired by festive front yards in Palm Springs; Filburt's Ice Follies features a happy holiday bird that won't grow up; Yulesville is an eclectic mix from a quirky holiday perspective; and Penguin Party Circuit depicts a small colony of fun loving-revelers.

The cards are available at the following locations, in addition to Gravelly Art's website:
